

Red Sea Environmental Centre
Dr. Robert Hofrichter
Schwarzstraße 33
A-5020 Salzburg,
Austria

Contractual agreement for volunteering between the Red Sea Environmental Centre (RSEC field station Dahab) and

Name: _____ Date of birth: _____

Address: _____

Passport number: _____

Emergency contact person: _____

_____ Telephone: _____

will volunteer for the time span of _____ (_____ weeks). Traveling expenses, accomodation and board, dives (special conditions), excursions, rental equipment as well as application fees for specific projects must be covered by the volunteer itself.

Arrival date: _____ Flight number: _____ Airport: _____

Fields of activities

- General and administrative duties for the RSEC
- Conservation work and activities (in cooperation with Reef Check - NCS/EEAA)
- Small field research projects

Activity area: RSEC premises in Dahab and El Quseir or the premises of the cooperating diving centres

Working hours: 6 days a week, roughly 9 - 17 o'clock (42 hours a week). The time frame can be shifted or prolonged in the framework of conservation projects and special events.

The Volunteer has the right to the following:

- At least one day off per week
- Free use of the working space and RSEC premises for volunteer duties
- Instruction and supervision through RSEC staff, including regular meetings in the course of the internship
- Use of data and informations within the agreed areas of activities of the RSEC with commitment to confidentiality
- Possibility to assist during biological programmes of the RSEC and during meetings of the RSEC
- Written confirmation of the internship through RSEC (as an approval for the university)

The volunteer liabilities are the following:

- Loyalty and solidarity to the RSEC
- Discretion respective to internal affairs of the RSEC (see above)
- Gathered results and collected data is always available for the RSEC
- Short reports (in English and in German) have to be written for project studies (e.g. conservation projects, collection of data, documentation)
- Please take care of the equipment and belongings of the RSEC and keep everything tidy and in order (for all)
- Follow the rules of the cooperating diving centres and hotel premises
- For project participants: the total fees have to be transferred on the RSEC bank accounts latest 4 weeks before arrival
- Inform yourself about all the cost of the voluntary work (diving, transfers, visa fees, food, accomodation...). You will find the updated price list on our webpage or just ask one of our staff.

- Regular public relation and communication in the RSEC forum is expected
- Become a member of the RSEC, declaration of membership is available on the website
- A final report has to be written before leaving Egypt and handed out to the RSEC staff (in case the volunteer wants a written confirmation)

The volunteer is responsible for having proper insurance (e.g. health-, casualty-, theft- and liability insurance). A medical diving fitness check up (if the volunteer wants to dive), as well as eventual vaccinations and the completion of a journey insurance are recommended. No vaccination are obligatory to enter in Egypt, but there are vaccination suggestions e.g. tropical institute. The RSEC will be made liable for anything regarding the volunteer, however we will endeavour to avoid any accidents or inconveniences.

I have read the conditions stated in these terms of use and I accept them.

Date

Signature of RSEC volunteer

Supervisor at the RSEC:
Dr. Robert Hofrichter

Supervisor at the RSEC:
Dipl.-Biol. Christian Alter